Hunger: A Global Disaster

The Harvest season is a time to once again think about that pre-eminent global disaster - hunger, which currently accounts for more than 9 million deaths a year. It is no newcomer to the world stage. Malnutrition has been killing - since before recorded history - with astonishing implications. Migration patterns, invasions, wars and weapons have all come about as people were trying to get something to eat. Yet we pay little attention to humanity's reigning adversary. Our elections never really turn on issues of hunger. Our TV heroes fight crime, not hunger.

Sad to say we have become used to millions of our brothers and sisters starving to death. Toleration of global hunger is a tragic consequence of our becoming desensitised to the horrors we see on our TV screens every day, or perhaps it just seems too big a problem that we zone out. If tackling hunger on a global level seems too elusive an initial goal, what might our Christian response to our own country's increasing gap between the rich and the poor be?

Familiarity is perhaps the greatest stumbling block in the path to serving God. The people of Jesus' hometown were unable to get excited about him when they realised he was just a local boy whom they had known for years prompting Jesus to observe that "Only in his home town, among his relatives and in his own house is a prophet without honour....He was amazed at their lack of faith."(Mark 6:4-6)

Jesus was too well known in Nazareth to be accepted as the Messiah, and the result of that familiarity was his inability to bring the power of God to the people who needed it. Famine may be too familiar to us for us to consider that we can change it and with the same result, that the power of God can't help people who need it. This hungry world does not wait for the abilities of God's people; it waits for the passion of God's people.

The Christian Church can achieve great things - when it is excited and passionate. Faithful parishioners have always been willing to sacrifice and work to give time and money. We look for opportunities to take a stand for right against wrong, but when faced with the enormity of the problem of hunger we become powerless. People respond with incredible generosity when called upon to address a particular crisis. Yet the problem remains. We feel helpless. Our world has always had hunger, and the possibility of hunger continuing to blight our global village paralyzes us into inaction.

Feeding the hungry is more than a matter of charity - the occasional response to a global disaster. It is not an option, but an obligation, an obligation in justice - specifically biblical justice, God's own justice. A striking example of this is to be found in the book of the prophet Isaiah: "Is this not the fast that I choose: to loose the bonds of injustice, to undo the thong of the yoke, to let the oppressed go free, and to break every yoke? Is it not to share your bread with the hungry, and bring the homeless poor into your house; when you see the naked cover them, and hide not yourself from your own kin? Then your light shall break forth like the dawn..."(58:6-8a)

For us the perfect model is, of course, Jesus Christ, who gives us a 'new commandment' that you love one another (John 13:34). We are compelled to love one another as Jesus loved and loves, with no distinction of persons and without reservation, even to the crucifixion. This Christian love demands action from us. In this context, to love the hungry is to feed the hungry.

When we read of Jesus feeding the hungry we have a tendency to view this as simply miraculous multiplications of loaves and fish. We should view it as a mandate to believers to feed the hungry, who are our brothers and sisters. "Lord, to those who are hungry give bread. And to those who have bread, give the hunger for justice."

With every blessing to you.

News from Alne Church

The Revd Roy Wadsworth

We were sorry to learn that Roy had died recently due to motor neurone disease. The Reverend Roy was a great supporter of the churches in this area and will be sorely missed. At Alne he led services well into his retirement and will be remembered especially for his good humour and also for his support for projects related to the church.

Roy's funeral will take place at Alne Church on Monday, 2nd October at 1.00 p.m., followed by refreshments at Tollerton Church. His family have asked that this will be a celebration of Roy's life and they would prefer those attending to dress in a colourful manner!

Helpers at the churchyard – a small number of volunteers continue to look after the churchyard, mainly by cutting the grass. However, the numbers have dwindled and we are calling once again for more help. Do join us if you can – an hour or two a week is all that is needed. Please contact Peter Cove (838346)

Restoration of the Alne Verges

As already announced, Alne is restoring its ancient verges along Main Street this autumn and is replacing the broken and muddied edges with granite setts, similar to those on the north side of Jack Hole. The restoration will narrow the road slightly from its current state but only back to where it was four or five years ago, the line of the gullies remaining largely intact.

This project is in partnership with North Yorkshire County Council but is financed 50% by the residents of Alne through a significant increase in the Council Tax precept over the next five years. There is therefore a strong incentive for all residents and businesses in Alne to ensure that the project is successful and that the new setts remain intact and secure.

Once the restoration is complete we are therefore asking:

- Residents not to park or drive onto the new verges in any way.
- Residents to reduce parking in Main Street, if they have parking access elsewhere, so that there is less of a problem for agricultural vehicles passing through.
- Residents to ensure that delivery vehicles also take the same care.
- Local farmers and businesses to ask their drivers to take additional care and consideration and, again, to avoid driving onto the new verges.

By working together, we can ensure that the restoration is a success and that further damage to our ancient verges is avoided.

Alne Oil Co-operative

Founder member of the Lower Swale Syndicate of Oil Co-operatives

The Record Has Been Broken!

The previously reported charge for oil supplied by a subsidiary of Certas Energy that was 57% higher than the Oil Co-operative has been beaten – again by a Certas Energy subsidiary.

On this latest occasion, the customer was charged an eye-watering 81% more than the Syndicate price!

The Lower Swale Syndicate consists of a group of 11 local Oil Co-operatives in the Easingwold area. The local Oil Co-operatives, and the Lower Swale Syndicate, are run by volunteers, who gain no benefit from their involvement, other than helping their community save money.

We have around 800 members across the local Co-operatives, who collectively purchase between 1.5 and 2 million litres of heating oil annually. Whilst nothing is guaranteed, we expect to beat the price for oil quoted on the BoilerJuice website by between 5% and 10%, and do so regularly.

Heating oil is a commodity, and will come from one of two refineries, no matter who you buy it from.

Why not join? — you will undoubtedly save money in comparison with your existing supplier and our supplier's service has been outstanding! Membership is open to all — if you live in or around Alne and want to know more about the Co-operative, please e-mail: alne@swaleoil.org.uk

There's more information on the Alne Village website: www.alnevillage.co.uk/groups\_oil.html

Climbing Hydrangea

Good home desperately needed for a healthy Climbing Hydrangea which was a gift but we have run out of walls. Please ring Jean & Stephen on 838283.

Alne WI

Our August meeting is always our summer dinner and this year we went to the Stapleford Arms in Wass. All agreed that the food, service and ambiance were superb and the company as always was great!

In contrast our September meeting was on Chinese Medicine and acupuncture. Kate Tattersall led us through the history from 2000 years ago when it was first documented (although it is generally acknowledged that it will have started before then) to the present day when it is recommended by NICE for the treatment of chronic conditions such as low back pain, migraine and osteoarthritis. Fine needles, usually about the diameter of a human hair, are used to access channels or meridians, to treat a condition. The first step in Chinese medicine is to assess the whole patient, their wellbeing and the balance in their body. The aim is to make sure that people have the best possible life.

We started to plan our Healthy Living and Wellbeing Week June 2018, need to ask our local Supermarkets how they reduce food waste in line with the WI 2016 resolution and need a member to be our group delegate for the AGM in Cardiff June 2018. Jean outlined courses, workshops, visits and holidays organised by N. Yorkshire East Federation .Our Federation Carol Service will be at Ampleforth Abbey again this December. Tholthorpe W I have invited us to hear a talk by the Trading Standard Officer about scams and fraud.

We meet on the second Wednesday of the month in Alne Village Hall at 7.30p.m., our programme is on alnevillage.co.uk website and everyone is very welcome to come to any meeting that interests them, men and children included, we charge £3 to cover our costs including refreshments. Our 11th October meeting is Iced Yorkshire Christmas do come and enjoy.

Alne WI - IDAS Appeal

Alne WI would like to say a big thank you to all who contributed cleaning materials for our IDAS appeal. We were able to hand over 10 large bags to the Independent Domestic Abuse Service for the use of women as they set up their new homes, want to make them feel nice and have no money for cleaning materials. IDAS have sent us their thanks on behalf of the staff and clients, it really does make a difference.

If you have any hotel toiletries or free samples that you don't need yourself, Mary Tym and her patch working friends make pretty bags filled with these for women when they arrive at the Refuges. Things can be left in Mary's porch (Bracorra, Main Street, Alne) or given to any WI member.

Thank you so much

Tollerton Coffee Morning for Yorkshire Air Ambulance

The coffee morning held at Tollerton Church on 2nd September raised £525.25.

My thanks to all who helped and attended - Margaret Wray

Sunday Papers – Tollerton

Tollerton Parish Council is aware that Sunday Papers are no longer being delivered to residents in the village. We have contacted Menzies Distribution and they can deliver a bundle of papers on a Sunday. For this to work, we need at least 25 people who wish to have a weekly Sunday Paper and a central drop off point. Would those interested please let us know by sending an e-mail to webmaster@tollerton.net. We would also need a volunteer to act as central drop off point.

Tollerton Parish Plan

Tollerton Parish needs to have a new Parish Plan. The current plan was completed to cover 2010 - 2014 and so is no longer current when we, as Parish Councillors, attempt to represent the wishes of you all.

As previously, there is a requirement that a steering group be set up to consult with parishioners and any “interested parties”; and then create the final plan, which can be supported by the Parish Council.

Is anyone interested in taking part in this important project? If yes, please let us know - either via the Parish Clerk, Sandra Windross tollertonparishcouncil@gmail.com or approach one of your councillors.

The current plan can be found on the link below.
